

Terms of Use and Attribution Policy

Terms of use

ACLED data is free and open to the public for non-commercial use on the condition that the user follows the Attribution Policy as outlined below. Any commercial application such as selling, licensing, sublicensing, or otherwise distributing the data, analysis, codebook, or any auxiliary materials to third parties for profit constitutes a violation of the Terms of Use.

Attribution Policy

If you are a non-commercial entity (e.g. non-profit, government, academic institution) and seek to use ACLED data and/or analysis for non-commercial/non-profit purposes, you are permitted to do so free of charge provided you follow the attribution policy below. Use of ACLED data and/or analysis is contingent upon observation of this policy:

1. If using ACLED data in any way, direct or manipulated, the data must be clearly acknowledged. Acknowledgement should include 1) a footnote with the full citation which includes a/the link to ACLED's website (see below for examples), 2) in text citation/acknowledgement, stating where the data you use are from and that ACLED data are publicly available, and 3) clear citation on any and all visuals making use of ACLED data;
2. If generating a data file for public or private use, and presenting those data to another party, the ACLED data included must be directly acknowledged in a source column (ACLED's full name and a link: Armed Conflict Location & Event Data Project (ACLED); acleddata.com);
3. To reference the ACLED codebook, please cite: ACLED. (2017). "Armed Conflict Location & Event Data Project (ACLED) Codebook, 2017, Version 8."
4. If using ACLED data in an academic paper or article, please cite: Raleigh, Clionadh, Andrew Linke, Håvard Hegre and Joakim Karlsen. (2010). "Introducing ACLED-Armed Conflict Location and Event Data." Journal of Peace Research 47(5) 651-660.
5. If referring to figures or statistics published in ACLED analysis, infographics, working papers, etc., please cite the individual analysis piece or paper, including the author(s), as follows:

Hart, Tom, and Lauren Blaxter. (23 November 2018). "Ceasefire Divisions: Violations of the Truce with Gaza Lead to Rising Political Pressures in Israel."

If the piece doesn't have an author recognized (often the case for pieces on ACLED methodology), you should include ACLED as the author.

6. If using ACLED data in a visual, graphic, map or infographic of your own, please attribute the source data prominently on the visual itself or within the key / legend.
7. If you wish to reproduce or publish an image, graph or map ACLED has already published (rather than creating an original image using raw data), please cite the individual analysis piece or paper, including the author(s), as follows:

*Hart, Tom, and Lauren Blaxter. (23 November 2018). "Ceasefire Divisions: Violations of the Truce with Gaza Lead to Rising Political Pressures in Israel." If you are a commercial entity or a non-commercial entity conducting commercial activities, you are not permitted to use ACLED data and/or analysis in any form under our Terms of Use. The only exceptions to this are 1) commercial entities using ACLED data and/or analysis for non-profit clients and 2) commercial media outlets or journalists who are citing ACLED in work which is available to the general public for free or at a modest fee, therefore benefiting public discourse on the topic. In these cases, they may use ACLED data and analysis but only for their work benefiting non-profit clients. However, the for-profit entity must first contact ACLED (admin@acleddata.com) to explain the case and request permission. In cases where it is not possible to separate work for non-profit and for-profit clients, ACLED data and analysis may not be used.

Please feel free to contact us directly at admin@acleddata.com if you have any questions about the Terms of Use or Attribution Policy or their application.
